Declares Marriage Was "Foolish Artistic Romance" and That She and Former Husband Still Good Friends.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., July 13. (Sp.)—Mrs. Laura Francis (George Harvatt) Muse, noted painter, has filed here suit for divorce from her second husband, George Perry Muse. She was married to him in Canton, Ohio, in 1917, the separation following in 1919.

Mrs. Muse said today that the marriage she now wishes to end was a "foolish artistic romance" and that she and her first husband, George Harvatt, who is now in Asheville, never fell out, and that they are still good friends.

The noted painter who has spent several summers here and who while here painted a picture that now hangs in the governor's reception room of the state capitol at Little Rock, has won a nation-wide reputation for her work. Her painting "Salome" now hanging in a large hotel in Chicago created quite a furore eight years ago in her native city, St. Louis. Other works from her brush have won considerable recognition, among them being a portrait of Fred Eaton, one time mayor of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Muse is the daughter of Bernard Gregory Caulfield, a native Virginian, who represented the state of Illinois in both the forty-third and the forty-fourth congresses and thereafter grand daughter of Pierre LaCade, founder of the city of St. Louis.

Mrs. Muse has been coming to Asheville for the summer for the past seven or eight years and while here has done some of her best work. She is widely known in this section.

The Norfolk and Western railroad is defendant in a damage suit for $25,000, which has been filed in circuit court by C. H. Elliott, administrator of the estate of Sam Whiteside. ## Labor To Oppose Re-Election Of Governor Roberts

Organized labor in Memphis will oppose vigorously the candidacy of Gov. A. H. Roberts for re-election if the former of a meeting held Monday by the Nonpartisan club is a guide. Fully 200 members of organized labor were present at the meeting, and during the meeting was read condemning the administration of Gov. Roberts and urging the members of the club to work against him.

The letter was directed to the local club by the campaign committee of the Tennessee Federation of Labor, and it recites that labor's principal objection to Gov. Roberts is because of his stand last year on law enforcement in which he toured the state and urged the strict enforcement of law against "reds" and radicals whether in or out of the ranks of labor. The letter declares that the governor charged labor with harboring "reds" and points out that the United States department of justice was unable to find one so-called "radical" in the entire state.

The law creating a state police force of 600 men was adopted by the legislature over the protest of organized labor; the convict leasing system, the public utilities commission law and other acts of the governor came in for their share of labor's displeasure.

The record of W. R. Crabtree was approved in toto in the letter from the state organization, and by their vote the Memphis club members have endorsed the candidacy of Crabtree against Gov. Roberts.

A number of candidates for congress from various districts of the state were endorsed, while others whom labor did not show them to be heartily in favor of everything that the labor unions demand were rejected. Among them being so far as the labor vote is concerned, Hubert Platter, representing the Memphis district in congress, was endorsed at the meeting.

Plans for financing the Nonpartisan club were gone into at the meeting, and it was proposed to raise $10,000 among the laboring men of the city. W. J. Rohr was named chairman of the four-minute men who will be sent out to the various unions and among the laboring men and speak on the various candidates for office.

A special committee has been named to investigate the records of all candidates for office and any who differ with organized labor are to be opposed for re-election.

Opinions about Tires should be Weighed as well as Counted

THERE is hardly a motorist who hasn't at some time or other in his experience had a tire dealer attempt to sell him a tire by representing it as the fastest seller in town.

More attempts are probably made to sell tires by playing to the motorist's alleged weakness for "crowd of buyers" than by any other known method of selling.

The experienced motorist, of course, refuses to surrender his individual judgment to any crowd or mass of whatever size.

Too often he has seen the results of accepting opinions at their face value, without first finding out what they are based on.

And you will find him going more and more to the dealer who has something to offer in support of his tires, other than "crowds of buyers" and "numbers of sales."

The opinion in favor of U. S. Tires is not based solely on the number of them in use.

Great as that number is, it is due to something besides clever arguments.

Thousands of motorists today are putting up with second choice tires because forced production is inconsistent with U. S. standard of quality.

The United States Rubber Company's enormous investment—greater than that of any concern in the industry—has always been aimed solely at quality.

Building a tire first and a market afterwards. Thinking of the individual user instead of the number of sales.

One of the reasons, perhaps, why there is now a scarcity of U. S. Tires.

If the time ever comes when U. S. Tires can be supplied to all, or nearly all, of the people who want them, they will still have more to recommend them than merely the largest following.
